Miami, August 3rd 2009 PC World Latin America, the leading IT magazine covering the digital world in the region, announces the PC World Latin America 2009 Awards finalists. 103 finalists have been determined to be the most outstanding products in the region under 29 competing categories, which were drawn by more than 50 participating companies. A panel of 20 judges comprised from PC World Latin America’s 10 editorial teams throughout the region will determine the winners.

In addition, three benchmark awards will be granted: the “Product of the Year Award” created to honor a unique, groundbreaking product that demonstrates great technological advancement and innovation; the “Digital World Award” to be given to the company that has set itself apart by the high quality of its well developed product line, while maintaining a creative pioneering spirit throughout the year, and introducing our new Green Award to the company that has demonstrated leadership on implementing earth friendly practices.

Winners will receive their awards during a Gala event that gathers the most prominent industry leaders, on Oct. 1st, at The Hotel Viceroy, in Miami.
